Advancing Inclusive City Design from Fringe to Mainstream
IF YOU COULD EXPERIENCE THE CITY FROM 95 cm — THE HEIGHT OF A 3-YEAR-OLD — WHAT WOULD YOU CHANGE?
Healthy brain development needs joy and love…

SURVIVING

THRIVING
…and without joy and love, the foundation won’t be as strong.
Cities can make it harder for vulnerable people to live and harder for caregivers to love.
So it’s important to consider the needs of the adults they are with – from safety to grown-up amenities.

If the needs of small children AND their caregivers are met, it’s a good indicator that the needs of most residents are too.
